

WE ARE MAKING A DIFFERENCE

OHIO
AMERICAN WATER

For more than 120 years,
American Water has been taking care of water.

In 1981, American Water formalized a program that dedicates resources to innovation and environmental stewardship. We're proud to be celebrating our 25th year of protecting our most precious resource.

Water is the world's most precious natural resource, and as a leader in the industry, we are charged with protecting and taking care of it every day. We strive to promote wise water use and protection of the environment in a variety of ways, including sharing our knowledge on water conservation, helping to preserve the natural habitats of various endangered species, and rolling up our sleeves to plant trees and clean up rivers and lakes.

In addition to these initiatives, we've begun to use methods such as solar energy panels to provide power to some of our treatment plants, and have developed environmental grant programs that help fund watershed protection and environmental educational programs for local groups and organizations.

We are committed to protecting the environment. It is, after all, the source of our water supply.

“Our primary mission is to provide high-quality water and wastewater service to our customers while enhancing the environment in which we live. We take very seriously our role as protectors and innovators in the water industry. And because the trust of our customers is something we earn every day, we take great care to protect it.”

Dr. Mark W. LeChevallier - Director of Innovation & Environmental Stewardship

To learn more about our environmental stewardship initiatives in your area and our environmental grant programs, visit www.amwater.com.